

July at the South Street Temple

TEMPLE NEWS: CORONAVIRUS UPDATE

Services and classes will remain virtual during the first part of July, with both our First Friday Family Shabbat on July 3 and our special "Oneg Shabbat" service on July 10 offered via Zoom. We are exploring the possibility of an outdoor service at Sunburst Park later in the month, with music by the Star City Kochavim. The Board and staff will continue to monitor conditions and will formulate plans for August at our next meeting on July 26.

COMMUNITY CONVERSATION

The murders of George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, Ahmaud Arbery, Tony McDade, and so many others are the tragic and unsurprising results of a racist and broken system — the same system that fueled Charlottesville, Charleston, and a litany of other white supremacist attacks. Integrity First for America, in partnership with a world-class legal team, is uniquely taking on the neo- Nazis, white supremacists, and hate groups at the center of this violent movement, holding them accountable in federal court for the violence they brought to Charlottesville in 2017.

IFA's lawsuit — scheduled to go to trial this fall— details how these extremists conspired to orchestrate a weekend of violence, which resulted in Heather Heyer's death and extensive injuries. It provides a tangible way to take action against extremism that's poisoning this country and has the potential to bankrupt and dismantle the leaders and hate groups at the center of this movement — which is key, given their disturbing connections to the broader cycle of white supremacist violence. Taking on, and taking down, these violent extremists is all the more critical as we see them try to exploit recent protests to spread disinformation, hate, fear, and violence.

Join IFA Executive Director Amy Spitalnick for an overview of this landmark case and the fight against white supremacy, anti-Semitism, racism, and other forms of hate, in a community conversation co-sponsored by Tifereth Israel, the South Street temple, and ADL-Omaha. We'll gather virtually on Thursday, July 23 from 7:00-8:00 pm. Register at bit.ly/IFAEvent723

RABBI SEARCH COMMITTEE UPDATE

The Rabbi Search Committee has been hard at work, and we are happy to let you know that we have posted our joint position with the CCAR (Reform), Rabbinic Assembly (Conservative), Hebrew College (Transdenominational), Academy of Jewish Religion (Transdenominational), and Aleph (Jewish Renewal). We are in the process of trying to post with the Reconstructionist movement as well. We're casting a very wide net in order to find the best possible candidate.

Our committee is co-chaired by Anne Rickover and Ken Bloom, and includes Nicholette Siegfried, Dan Senft, Alan Frank, Yoel Swartz, Seth Harris, Dan Friedman, and Mike Eppel. Our work together has truly been an example of the "Two Congregations, One Community" spirit we are working toward.

You can always ask us if you have further questions. We'll keep you updated.

FINANCIAL SUSTAINABILITY UPDATE

A South Street Temple Budget Committee has been formed, including Art Zygielbaum, John Mosow, Dan Senft, Leslie Delserone, Nicholette Seigfreid, and Elaine Monnier. The committee met on June 29 to create projected budgets for the next 5 years. Art Zygielbaum, Howard Feldman, and Elaine Monnier have met a couple of times previously to gather demographic and financial information and to create an initial list of items that we will want to consider as we look at the near-term as well as the longer-term financial sustainability of our community.

Art and Elaine will meet with Howard on June 30 to agree on an agenda for a full Financial Sustainability group (SST and TI) meeting. The full Financial Sustainability group will meet on July 6 to discuss projections and items we need to consider for our sustainability into the future.

CITY HATE CRIME ORDINANCE

Thank you to the Lincoln City Council for unanimously passing the hate crime ordinance. Mayor Leirion Gaylor Baird proposed this ordinance in response to the vandalism of the South Street Temple and "as an expression of our community's shared values." The ordinance strengthens the city's ability to respond to acts of hate and shows that hate has no home in Lincoln. Nicholette Seigfreid testified in support of the ordinance on June 8 and the following joined us in support of the ordinance: Tifereth Israel, Temple Israel, ADL- Great Plains, Nebraska Appleseed, NAACP - Lincoln Chapter, and Lincoln Friends Group.

PARTNERSHIP WITH OUTNEBRASKA

At a recent virtual gathering, we explored themes of racism, anti-racism, power and privilege. Almost 300 people attended the presentation via Zoom and participants engaged in a lively Q & A chat. More webinars and conversations will be hosted in the near future, so watch our weekly emails and social media for announcements.

RESPONDING TO COMMUNITY NEEDS

The City of Lincoln recently introduced a new resource to those in need in our community and those wanting to serve through the new Aging Partners program called NeighborLNNK. The goal of the program is to serve seniors (60+) as well as persons with disabilities in the community ("neighbors") who are homebound as a result of the COVID-19 crisis. NeighborLNNK facilitates personal connections by directly linking volunteers with such individuals.

- If you're a senior (60+) or a person with disabilities and interested in being paired with a volunteer in this program to receive services, you may apply by calling 402-441-7575 to request a neighbor application packet, or you may apply by downloading and filling out the packet and emailing it to NeighborLNNK@lincoln.ne.gov. There is no cost to participate in the program.
- If you're 19 years or older and are interested in serving as a volunteer in this program, you may apply by filling out the volunteer application packet and emailing the completed packet to NeighborLNNK@lincoln.ne.gov

The City of Lincoln has also compiled available resources for residents and businesses during the COVID-19 crisis, as well as ways you can safely serve and support your community. For more information, including information on the latest public health situation, go to covid19.lincoln.ne.gov.

just contact Ellin Siegel and she can relay garden tasks that can be done. Our focus is on keeping things neat and growing. Tasks include weeding, trimming, raking, and sweeping. Please bring your garden tools, bags for

LOCAL FOOD IN URBAN LINCOLN

Join your South Lincoln neighbors for the first F Street Neighborhood Church Farmer's Market from 4:30 to 7:00 pm on June 9! When we confront huge problems like systemic racism or global pandemics, it's easy to feel powerless. Sometimes it's more effective to focus on something you can control and ask, "What can I do now to make an impact?" The F St Neighborhood Market exists to support the community, provide access to healthy, locally grown food, and develop the community's workforce. The F St Neighborhood Market is partnering with other local organizations to make our neighborhood a great place to live, work, and play. You can join with us in many ways! We're looking for more vendors to sell at our market. You can also volunteer your time or just come to the market and enjoy being with your neighbors at 1302 F Street. The market will run on Tuesday afternoons throughout the summer.

REMEMBERING LINDA GLASER – WORDS FROM RABBI CRAIG LEWIS

The thing that sticks in my mind most about Linda has to be hearing her laugh. It was rare to have a conversation with her when she didn't laugh, at least once. Even in harder times, when Don was sick or when she was confronted with her own health issues. She found a way to laugh, using humor to cope with her pain.

And her laugh was unique, a bit raspy, and rather infectious. She could make you laugh along with her, sometimes in times of adversity, but she thrived most in times of pure fun. She loved being the narrator at our Purim Shpiels, and we could probably write books of the various ways she pronounced the name Achashverosh, or Ahahsuereus, or Ashuereus, or Acheresh, or Ahashuashu, or whatever. She would say anything that came to her mind, and stole the scene, and brought great joy to everyone around her.

That went well beyond the Purim Shpiel. When Linda and Don became part of the South Street Temple family, it was like.... Well if there is a good version of Pandora's box, that was it. Pandora's box unleashed evil, but Linda unleashed lots of goodness. That could not be contained. That is what presents me with this incredible challenge. At times of loss, I think of the biblical character that our loved one reminds us of. For Linda, this has not been easy. Pandora, even a good version of Pandora, is not a biblical character. Someone who unleashed untold amounts of goodness through giving and kindness, I thought and thought, and I landed on the matriarch Rachel.

One of the things Rachel is most known for is taking her father's idols when she left with her new husband Jacob. The commentators raise lots of questions about why she would do this. One way of thinking about it was as a prank. While Linda was not really a prankster, she did love to tease. With her in Intro to Judaism, it was like Welcome Back Kotter. "We tease him a lot 'cause we've got him on the spot." The greatest thing I ever did for her was nearly forgetting to ask her the questions as she officially embraced the Torah. I never lived it down. She would bring it up, again, and again, and again. It was never mean, but it was always something she held over me for fun. There are many victims, or I should say, may grateful recipients of her loving teasing on this Zoom call tonight. So Rachel and Linda, we might see as teasing in a way as showing love. To be teased by Linda felt almost as good as getting hugged by her. I would take the latter over the former. Usually, with Linda, you got both.

There is another possible reason that Rachel took her father's idols, and it is also a reflection on Linda. It occurs to me now that Rachel grabbed the tchotchkes because she wanted to open a gift shop. Once Linda got it in her head that the Temple gift shop would be revamped, there was no holding her back, and I will tell you, beyond just having a place to buy menorahs, seder plates, and yartzheit candles, Linda created a community. She developed a corps of loyal volunteers who took it seriously and took great pride in the gift shop, even on days when we had not customers, they were there. And when there were customers, oh boy, did they get red carpet treatment. And I will tell you, we gained more than a few new members because of the kindness they encountered in our gift shop. So like Rachel, who was known for being gentle, kind, and hospitable, Linda knew how to draw people nearer and make them feel connected.

And that is the last thing that ties Linda to Rachel's memory— her never-ending commitment to caring for the people around her. Of course, it started with Don, and Chris, and Brynna, and her family members around the country. But if she cared about you, she instantly made you a member of her extended family. I remember clearly one night, talking to a new-ish family in the congregation, and the kids were already calling her Grandma Linda. They loved her, and she loved them, because they were kids and she saw them as our future. To that end, she always made sure the South Street kids had gifts at Chanukah and Passover. She wanted gift shop proceeds to benefit our youth group. And she did everything in her power to help support our school and our youth programs, which extended to being campaign chair for Jewish Federation. She had a loving nature and a giving heart and was a hard worker. And every single one of us benefited from it, and really we still do. Even living in another city, I cannot plan a holiday celebration without thinking of her and Don, taking pictures, being in the shpiel, heckling the rabbi, or having the Temple kids surround them. I know we all hold those memories dear, too many to count. What she unleashed was definitely the good kind of Pandora's box, a myriad of gifts that just keep giving and giving.

For her many gifts, her infectious laughter, her mothering love to so many, her words of kindness, and the community she helped to strengthen, we give our thanks as we pray, zichronah livracha, may her memory be for an eternal blessing,

Richard V. "Doc" Lombardi, father of Rich Lombardi, drew his last breath on June 23 after a wonderful life. Rich and Pat got to be with him and got him home and then had the incredible support of health care and hospice folks.
